The following named physicians of Ohio county met Dr. J. N. McCormick, of Bowling Green, Tuesday, 30th ult. Drs. R. P. Nall and J. W. Taylor, Cromwell, J. L. Carter, Maxwell, B. N. Patterson and J. S. Smith, McHenry, J. J. Mitchell and S. D. Taylor, Beaver Dam, G. S. Evers, Ceralvo, J. D. Maddox and F. B. DeWitt, Rockport, J. T. Miller, J. S. Morton, E. B. Pendleton, E. W. Ford and S. J. Wedding, Hartford, Dr. R. L. Ford, Bada. The Ohio County Medical Society was re-organized with the following officers: President, Dr. J. J. Mitchell; Vice President, Dr. B. N. Patterson; S. J. Wedding. The next meeting will be held in Hartford on the second Wednesday in September next. The above named physicians of the county were enrolled as members of said Society.

We feel safe in saying that the Institute now in session is, in many respects the best ever held in the county. It is being conducted by one of the most popular educators in the South, Prof. John C. Willis. The lectures of Monday and Wednesday nights were excellent efforts. Prof. Willis' arguments were logical and convincing. Rev. Boyce Taylor's lecture on "What Doest Thou Here," was presented in an exceptionally pleasant and forceful manner. If the advice given is considered by the teacher as it should be, then his mission to Hartford will prove more fruitful than any on which he has ever gone. Teachers, heed his advice and teach your children to "be" and not to "do," teach them to think for themselves and not to be thought for. This is indeed teaching and anything else is not teaching, but keeping. The social have been highly enjoyed by the teachers. The work as a whole has been interesting from the beginning and if the teachers are not benefited by having attended this work it is their fault and theirs alone.

Stewart, C. P. Keown, S. T. Stevens, Judge Miller, Sam Renter, Lee Wedding, Prof. E. R. Ray, William Foster and — Gardner.

Institute opened with music by Mr. E. A. Carter, Miss Dena Woodward at the organ. After roll call Mr. Miller introduced the method of calling the roll by number, which was appreciated by all the teachers and especially the Secretary.

The discussion of school management was opened by Mr. H. C. Crowder. Miss Dena Westerfield being absent. The Social qualities of the Teacher were discussed by Prof. Welborn. The Personality of the Teacher was then discussed by Mr. O. V. Wilson followed by Prof. S. C. Stevens. Then followed the discussion of House and Furniture by Mr. S. P. McKenney and General Interest of the Community by Mr. W. R. Rhoads. Means of securing General Interest were then discussed by the Institute after which motion by Mr. Ozia Shultz that Mr. J. B. Wilson be made an honorary member of the Institute. The motion carried and Mr. Wilson declared a member of the Institute and his name placed on the roll book. The teachers were given a ten minutes intermission during which the teachers were permitted to give their names to the Secretary and shake hands with old friends.

After music by Mr. Carter and Miss Woodward the discussion of reading was introduced. Mrs. J. A. Wedding and Miss Rachel Sanderfur being absent, the subjects—"The Word Method and the Alphabet Method" were left to be discussed Tuesday.

How to secure Natural Reading was discussed by Miss Mary Holloway and the discussion continued by the Institute.

Mr. U. I. Paxton discussed the Importance of proper Beginning. The general discussion followed brought out many important points.

After music by Mr. Carter's class and roll call; the Value of the District Library was very ably discussed by Mr. Ed Patterson. Then Mr. M. J. Holbrook told the teachers how, with the loss of a few nights sleep, they could procure means to establish a District Library.

Mr. Jno. B. Wilson suggested the use of the County Library by the teachers. Mr. Holmherm thinks the county should be responsible if these books were destroyed by the children of the districts.

Then followed a speech by the Instructor and closing remarks by the Superintendent after which the Institute was adjourned to meet promptly at 8 p. m. at which time they were highly entertained by an instructive lecture, The Epochs of Life by Prof. J. C. Willis. The teachers then went to their homes to await the ringing of the Court House bell at 8:30 Tuesday morning.

TUESDAY MORNING. Institute convened promptly at 8:30. Rev. Petrie being absent, Prof. Welborn conducted Devotional Exercises. Music by Institute choir.

The first period was occupied by Prof. Willis in the discussion of psychology. Recess. House called to order by the Instructor. Music by Mr. Carter's class. Mrs. Shultz, organist. The Relation of Geography, History and Civics was very ably discussed by Messrs. Henry Leach and J. C. Holsheimer. Miss Aurora Storms next discussed the Practical Benefit of Geography. Miss Mattie Pittle gave in a very practical way, her methods of teaching Geography. She would begin by giving general lessons, then when the pupil's knowledge is sufficient, introduce the text book. To what extent should Geography be taught, was discussed by J. A. Duff. He thinks it should be taught until the pupil has a general notion of the subject. Mr. Birch Shields next gave his method of teaching Advanced Geography. He favors the outlined method. Map drawing was discussed by Mr. R. C. Jarnagin. He exhibited several maps drawn by his pupils and thinks map drawing should be taught more extensively. Mr. James Dewese being absent the discussion of Geography was discontinued and the teachers were highly entertained by a recitation by Miss Florence Morton. Recess.

House called to order by Instructor. Music by Mr. Carter and Miss Williams. The subject of Arithmetic was introduced by Prof. Willis. Mr. C. K. Carson being absent being absent his subject, How teach Beginners, was discussed by Prof. O. M. Shultz and W. G. Welborn. They think the object method best. Prof. Ray thinks this subject of Arithmetic is not difficult where properly presented. Recess.

House called to order by the Instructor. Music by Institute choir. Roll call by the Secretary. The discussion of School Management was opened by Mr. H. C. Crowder. He allows whispering, thinks it is beneficial and therefore should not be prohibited. Dr. J. S. Fitzhugh thinks whispering is very injurious to a school and that any teacher who will, can prevent it. The subject of punishment was introduced by Mr. Fitzhugh. He thinks there are times when corporal punishment is necessary, but that the object of all punishment should be to reform the child. Mr. Park thinks corporal punishment is never necessary. The teacher on the play ground was discussed by Profs. Shultz and Iglehart. They think the presence of teacher on the play ground prevents many disturbances. The discussion was concluded by a very instructive talk by Prof. Willis.

Recess was then given, after which reading—"The Word Method" was discussed by Mrs. Julia A. Wedding. Messrs. N. B. Wedding and D. H. Godsey believe a combination of the word and alphabet methods best. Next Miss Gibson, in a practical manner, illustrated the word method of teaching of reading. J. D. Black being absent, his subject, the Students Preparations was discussed by Miss Mary Mercer and Mr. P. H. Ross. Recess.

The house was called to order in the usual way and mental Arithmetic was ably handled by Prof. Willis until adjournment hour, when the program for the evening's entertainment, consisting of music, recitations and impromptus, was read by Miss Dora Gibson.

At 8 p. m., the body of teachers and a host of visitors met and were highly entertained for quite a while. All felt feeling deeply indebted to the committee, Messrs Gibson, Renter, Shultz, Morton, Woodward and Mr. E. Woodward for a enjoyable evening.

WEDNESDAY. The Institute, convened at 8:30 Wednesday morning. Prof. Burk not being present, Devotional Exercises were conducted by Prof. Willis. The minutes of Monday's proceedings were read and adopted. After roll call, the remainder of the period was occupied by Prof. Willis in the discussion of Psychology. Recess.

The second period began with music by Mr. Carter's class, Miss Dena M. Woodward organist. Miss Daisy Godsey introduced the subject of Grammar in a short talk on "When and how to begin teaching primary grammar." This was followed by a motion by J. S. Fitzhugh, that all visiting teachers be made honorary members of the Institute. The motion carried and the visitors were enrolled.

E. Woodward then gave his method of teaching primary grammar, which is to teach only one part of speech at one time.

Following this was a splendid paper read by R. T. Wedding on "Bad beginning causes distaste for grammar." This paper caused an argument between Mr. Wedding and an honorary teacher, Mr. Sam Renter on dependent and independent clauses. Recess.

The ringing of the bell brought the assembly together and after the regular proceedings of calling to order, Prof. Willis took the floor and discussed arithmetic.

SCHOOL MANAGEMENT. School management was the first subject presented after calling the house to order at 1:30.

Miss Dora Gibson opened this discussion by a talk on How to maintain interest and hold attention. This was followed by J. B. Wilson on the teachers' preparation.

Messrs. Oliver, McDonald and Carson discussed the daily program. Prof. Willis in a very instructive talk told the teachers how and what to do on the first day of school. Mr. W. R. Rhoads suggested several ways of preventing pupils from moving across the floor too often, one of which was to allow only one pupil on the floor at a time.

After ten minutes recreation, they were called together in the usual way and the subject of spelling was begun. Diacritics was discussed by Mr. E. A. Carter, then Prof. Welborn made a short talk on the "Manner of Teaching Diacritics."

Mr. J. H. Wood discussed the best methods of teaching advanced spelling after which the Institute was pleasantly entertained by a paper on synonyms by Miss Fannie Renter.

Then followed the "Value of the Dictionary" by Messrs R. Woodward and Elmo Williams.

Miss Dena M. Woodward preferred written spelling to oral. Mr. M. D. Maddox made a short talk on "How and when Conduct the Recitation in spelling. Miss May E. Rogers in a few well chosen remarks gave her method of grading the recitation in spelling. This was followed by a short talk by Miss Nannie King on Reviews. Recess.

After music by the Institute and roll call, the remainder of the period was spent in the discussion of civics. The subject was opened by Mr. H. Pruden with a short talk on "Ends to be Attained. Miss Dena M. Woodward read a splendid paper on Oral Work.

Miss Dora Gibson gave an interesting and instructive talk on how to teach patriotism, and we believe his method is followed we will not only be more patriotic ourselves, but will instill patriotism into the minds and hearts of our pupils. The Institute was then entertained by an interesting talk on Imperial Power by Prof. Ray. The Institute then adjourned.

The evening lecture by Rev. Boyce Taylor was listened to by a large and appreciative audience, which he held spell-bound by his earnest and elegant remarks. The teachers cannot but be benefited by the counsel given. "What Doest Thou Here?" was her theme and the earnestness of the speaker spoke to the hearts of auditors and good results are sure to follow from last evening's exercises. FOR ROGERS, Ch'm'n.
